THE COOLEST THING SINCE THE ICE AGE

We got our start manufacturing tailgate tossing games back in 2006 and have been making great products ever since. Mammoth differentiates itself from peers in the outdoor market with innovative original designs that make our unique products appeal to a broader spectrum of the consumer market. By listening to the consumer and using competitive products in the field, we were able to craft a line of products that provide maximum performance without being unaffordable and unusable in everyday life. Lightweight products with ergonomic designs allow Mammoth to provide a better user experience.

We have thousands of loyal customers using our products everyday. From soccer moms in suburbia to trout bums in the west, the boaters in the Ozarks to the campers in the Northwest. They have all realized that they can have a top performing product that is actually usable in their daily activities.
